The Trilogy Treatment

From Your Mayor & City Administrator

2019 proved to be an interesting and challenging year for all of us in local government. We got off to a rough start when Mother Nature forced us to extend our Curbside Leaf Collection service into February. The “Better Together” movement galvanized the Board of Aldermen and staff to adopt the position that we are “Ballwin Strong.” We were determined to retain our identity and reputation by doing everything possible to oppose this consolidation initiative. For a variety of reasons, notably your vocal support, the enemy was turned back at the gate.

Community pride was celebrated with the grand opening of our new Government Center on April 1st. Thanks to the fiscal responsibility of your elected officials, this building was constructed on City property without incurring debt obligations for you or our future residents.

Looking forward, there are many challenges and opportunities that lie ahead. The new Government Center is a jewel for our community, but we must now address the future use of our vacant building at 14811 Manchester Road. The good news is it's City owned and adjacent to Vlasik Park. The bad news is it has limited curb appeal and access to Manchester Road. A feasibility study was conducted last fall and the redevelopment options are limited. Nonetheless, this will be a top priority for resolution in 2020.

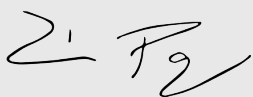

Towards the end of last year, a space and needs assessment was conducted on our Police Department's headquarters. This 1969-era structure once served the entire City staff as well as our Municipal Court and all other official public meetings. However, that was then and this is now. As a result of the architectural study, the Board has unanimously agreed that it is time for a new facility to serve the current and future needs of our police personnel. It has been determined that the new building will be constructed on City property and that it will address all ADA, officer safety, and energy-efficiency standards.

Another issue that is high on our radar screen for 2020 is annexation. We are poised to submit our first petition to the Boundary Commission and others are sure to follow. If we are successful, we are committed to continue providing the same top quality programs and services to ALL.

Finally, make sure that you are counted in the 2020 census. These numbers will impact the City in terms of revenue allocation for the next 10 years.

On behalf of the entire Board of Aldermen and all of our dedicated and hardworking employees, we'd like to thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Tim Pogue

PEOPLE of Ballwin

Jean Kirchner

Today, when you drive through Ballwin down the state highway most commonly referred to as Manchester Road, you'll see various restaurants, big box retailers, and local businesses. However, this wasn't always the case. Longtime Ballwin resident Jean Kirchner remembers a very different city when she moved here over sixty years ago.

“When we first moved here, Manchester Road was just two lanes. From Kirkwood to Ballwin, there was only one four-way stop sign. Can you imagine that?”

Most of us probably can't, as we have never known a time when the weekday hour of 5 p.m. didn't produce bumper-to-bumper traffic on Manchester Road. Yet for Jean, she recalled with impeccable detail exactly what Ballwin was like in the 1950s and how different it was to the city we know today.

“There were two little grocery stores in Ballwin and there was one Standard gas station,” Jean described. “Schraeder Funeral Home was there. On the south side of Manchester there was a drug store and a Priess Cleaner. Where Target sits, that was just a big vacant lot. It was mostly just vacant lots on the north side of Manchester.”

Jean, who grew up in Terra Haute, moved to the St. Louis area shortly after getting married. Her husband, a salesman at the time, had been offered a job in St. Louis, prompting them to pack up their life in Indiana and head west of the Mississippi.

“At the time, St. Louis was a pretty thriving city. When we moved to the area, we couldn't afford to buy a house in St. Louis. We came to Ballwin in the 1950s because it was what we could afford. I remember people saying to me, ‘why would you want to move way out into the country?’ ” Jean laughed.

Nevertheless, Jean was expecting their first child and the newlyweds were on a tight budget, so moving out to the “country” is exactly what they did. In 1956, the Kirchners purchased their first house on Radford Lane, a place their family of seven would call home for 37 years.

“When we moved out here, we were the second or third subdivision. After that, it just kept growing and growing,” Jean said.

Now, Jean lives in a condo in Ballwin's fourth ward and recently celebrated her 93rd birthday. For fun, she enjoys reading, going out to eat with her kids, and attending Holy Infant Church, which was brand new when she moved here.

As she reflected on her life, Jean was most proud of graduating from college, getting married, and of course, her five children, 10 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren. The advice she'd like to pass on to everyone? “Don't get so old,” she said with a laugh. “But also, love God, love your family, and always do what's right.”

Thank You Veterans!

On November 13th, we held a Veterans Appreciation Breakfast at the Golf Course for our veteran employees. On behalf of the entire City, we thank everyone who has served, and continues to serve, our country.

UNDERSTANDING The Ballwin Budget

I am pleased to present the City of Ballwin's 2020 Budget. This budget serves as the City's fiscal plan from January 1, 2020 - December 31, 2020. It includes our goals, objectives, and future financial projections. I've included graphs that show the City of Ballwin's projected revenues and expenditures. To view the budget in its entirety, please visit our Budgets page on the City's website. We are committed to making the budgeting process as open and transparent as possible, so please reach out to the City directly if you have any additional questions or concerns.

- Denise Keller
Finance Officer

Total revenues equal $21,501,377. Major revenue for the City of Ballwin include sales taxes, public utility licenses, and community programs. The City has $0 property tax, so it's reliant on the categories included in the chart above.

SALES TAXES represent $9.6 million or 45% of General and Capital Fund revenues. Ballwin consumers pay a sales tax rate of 8.738% of which .5% is for Capital Improvements and .5% is for Parks. An additional 1.0% is distributed from St. Louis County. These revenues are highly variable depending on economic conditions.

PUBLIC UTILITY LICENSES represent $3.0 million or 14% of General and Capital Fund revenues. A gross receipts tax is paid by both public and private utility companies doing business in Ballwin for use of the public right-of-way and is based on operating revenues. These companies generally pass the tax on to their customers.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS represent $3.3 million or 15% of General and Capital Fund revenues. Memberships and fees from Ballwin's community center, golf course, and outdoor water park generate these revenues. Additional sources include special programs such as race events, community festivals, and facility rentals.

Total expenditures equal $22,594,407. Police, Public Works, and Capital Improvements make up a significant portion of the City of Ballwin’s 2020 Budget.

POLICE represents 35% of the General Fund. Included is the replacement of four patrol vehicles and new protective equipment for officers. Body worn cameras will be added.

PUBLIC WORKS represents 24% of the General Fund and includes road resurfacing, sidewalk repairs, snow removal, and leaf collection. Trimming and removal of trees in the right-of-way is also performed; two laborers are added for an additional tree crew.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS total $2.0 million and represent all expenditures for the Capital Fund. Phase Two of the redevelopment of Ferris Park, planning and design work for the police building, and engineering for the resurfacing of New Ballwin Road from Manchester to Twigwood Drive are all planned.

Last year, the City of Ballwin was presented with a Distinguished Budget Presentation Award from the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) for the 2019 budget. This is the fourth consecutive award for the City. This award certifies Ballwin’s budget documents were of the highest quality and rated proficient in serving as: a policy document, a financial plan, an operations guide, and a communications device.

The City of Ballwin’s budget document consists of its primary General Fund, a Capital Improvements Fund, and several minor funds such as a Sewer Lateral Fund, Special Allocations (TIF) Fund, TDD Fund, and a Debt Service Fund. Every fall, each department drafts an estimate of projects and their expenses to present to the Board of Aldermen for consideration, which they then work to solidify and prioritize the remainder of the year.

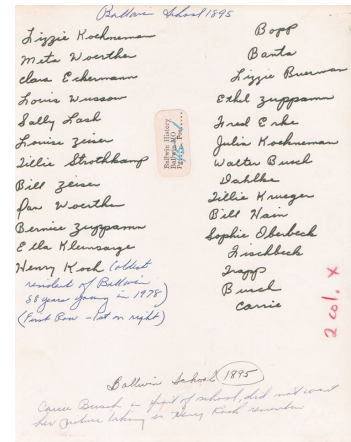

To view the complete 2020 Budget, as well as prior year’s budgets, visit www.ballwin.mo.us/Budgets/. Here, you will see the full breakdown of the 2020 budget, including the revenues and expenditures for each individual department.

Moment in History

Did you know that the “Old Ballwin Schoolhouse” was not really Ballwin’s first school?

Ballwin’s first school building was Salem Methodist Church built in 1855. There is a sketch of that building in the Ballwin United Methodist Church’s history book. During those years, Salem Church in Ballwin was a German Methodist Episcopal church.

The photo on the top right is of students in front of that building in 1895. It was demolished five years later to make way for what we now call the “Old Ballwin Schoolhouse.” The bottom photo is a list of students supplied by Henry Koch in 1978. Henry is the young fellow seated at the extreme right in the front row of the top photograph.

The Ballwin Historical Commission (BHC) was created with the sole purpose of promoting, educating, and illustrating the history of Ballwin, its exploration, settlement, development, and activities. They are currently looking to welcome new members and volunteers! For more information on the The Ballwin Historical Commission, visit www.ballwin.mo.us/History-of-Ballwin/. PEOPLE of Ballwin

Phil Woodmore

Phil Woodmore has been a lover of music since age five. Growing up in his father's church, his childhood was soundtracked by pianos, choirs, and gospel music. At just seventeen years old, Phil's musical resume was both extensive and commendable. He was a classically-trained, gospel-trained, and jazz-trained pianist, an active member of his school's choral programs, musical theater partaker, founder of the Marquette High School Gospel Choir, and the Minister of Music at his father's church.

Although his love for music was identified at an early age, Phil wouldn't fully realize his future career in music until many years later.

"I didn't realize this was a passion of mine until I started teaching in Ferguson and Florissant. I directed the choir at my dad's church... that was fun. I sang in choirs growing up... that was fun. I started working on a music degree... that was fun," Phil stated. "But it wasn't ever career oriented. I just loved doing it. And then I went to teach and saw the impact music was having on these kids. That's what really shaped me and showed me this was going to be career level for me."

Shortly after receiving his Bachelor's degree in Marketing and Music Vocal Performance from St. Louis University, Phil was offered the choir teaching position at Ferguson Middle School in Ferguson and Berkley Middle School in Florissant, where he taught for a year before returning to West County. In 2006, he accepted a teaching position at his alma mater, Crestview Middle School, where he would end up teaching choir for 12 years. During his time at Crestview, he received his Master's in Music Education from Webster University, started his PHD at Mizzou, grew the overall school choir from 225 to 350 students, and became a fourth-year Ballwin resident.

Although it was hard for Phil to leave teaching, it was time to take his musical career in a new direction. In 2016, he was approached by the founder of Theater of War, Bryan Doerries, to compose 45 minutes of original music for a new performance titled Antigone In Ferguson. The show successfully premiered in Ferguson in September of 2016 and has since been performed in Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Greece, and Off Broadway in New York.

In addition to the "many hats" he already wears, Phil is also the Director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department Choir, former Voice Coordinator for COCA, vocal coach, owner of various vocal studios, collaborator with different schools in the St. Louis area, composer, and recently named Director of Munity Kids at the Munity.

Over the next few months, Phil will be busy graduating with his PHD, collaborating on the Shakespeare Festival in St. Louis, working with the Prison Performing Arts to premier a new show, Pirates of Penzance, and planning his 20-year Marquette High School reunion.

"I'm truly thankful for where I am in life right now and where God has brought me, and am looking forward to what lies ahead. I am hoping this can grow in a way that these messages can touch and reach more people," Phil said. "Music is powerful and transformative. My life's mission is to share that with others."

Winter Weather

We all know weather in Missouri is unpredictable and winter can extend far longer than desired. So this February, make sure you're staying prepared should winter weather occur!

Before an expected snow storm or freeze, our Public Works department will treat the streets with salt brine (a combination of rock salt and mostly water) during regular work hours (salt brine will not be applied if rain or freezing rain is predicted). Plowing will then begin when the snow accumulates to two - three inches and weather forecasters are predicting rising temperature. If the prediction is falling temperatures, then plowing will be delayed until the depth is four - five inches.

You can assist by remembering Ballwin's City Ordinance No. 2211, which prohibits the parking of vehicles on City streets when the City is under a snow emergency (a snow emergency occurs whenever snow accumulates to two inches or more or during freezing rain or ice). This prohibition is in effect until the street has been cleared for emergency vehicles. We ask that you remain aware of winter weather forecasts of snow or freezing rain, and remove your cars from the street. Parked vehicles impede snow and ice removal efforts, and the Police Department will strictly enforce this ordinance. Your cooperation is solicited and appreciated.

During winter snow emergencies, crews will operate around the clock until the storm ends and all streets are cleared. Major arteries will receive top priority, followed by the collector streets, and then the minor subdivision streets and cul-de-sacs.

As always, if you have questions on our Snow Removal service, visit www.ballwin.mo.us/Snow-Removal/, or reach out to our Public Works Department directly at (636) 227-9000 *option #2.

To Better Serve Our Patients

Across the street and one hundred yards to the East.

We are moving into our new building in 2020, which is located at

14649 Manchester Road
(formerly Johnny Mac's Sporting Goods)

The move is tentatively the last week in February.

The actual move date is: To Be Determined

Springing Forward

Now that our curbside leaf collection program and, hopefully, most of our winter weather is behind us, we will be turning our attention to other programs and projects this spring. We will continue to handle work orders, but will also shift our focus towards street trees, hazardous tree removal, curb, gutter, and sidewalk replacements, and other public-related issues.

Our department is responsible for the maintenance repair of 123 centerline miles of street pavement. Our goal is to make sure these roads are safe for you, and everyone who enters our community, to travel on. That's why we created the Report an Issue feature on our website. No one knows these roads better than you, so when you see something that needs our attention, we encourage you to reach out and let us know!

The Report an Issue feature, which can be found online at www.ballwin.mo.us/Report-An-Issue/, allows you to report a specific issue directly to the appropriate department. This includes reporting a pothole, code violation, police tip, or street tree issue. When a pothole report, street tree report, or service request comes through the Public Works system, a supervisor is dispatched to view the area. If determined to require service, the completion date will be dependent on the severity of the issue, scheduling, and, of course, weather. Weather plays a significant role in project commencement and completion because so much of our work is done outside.

Later this season, a few of our Public Works vehicles and employees will be attending the Tons of Trucks event at Target. This event is scheduled for Saturday, April 18 (see p. 23 for more details) and is something we truly enjoy attending because we get to meet all the wonderful residents we serve! It also provides the perfect opportunity for you to come learn more about what we do and see our Public Works vehicles up close!

We are excited about the projects, programs, and events taking place this spring and, as always, are interested in any ideas, input, or feedback you have for us! We look forward to another season of serving the Ballwin community.

Meet Our New Police Chief

Doug Schaeffler

Training

Chief Schaeffler was professionally trained by the Greater St. Louis Police Academy and the FBI National Academy.

Experience

Chief Schaeffler served with the Richmond Heights Police Department since 1988 and was their Chief of Police from 2016-2019. Before joining Richmond Heights, he was a Police Officer for the St. Louis Lambert Airport PD.

Education

Chief Schaeffler holds a Master's Degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice from the University of Missouri - St. Louis. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice Administration from Central Missouri State University.

Organizations

Chief Schaeffler is involved in many professional and civic organizations, including the St. Louis Area Police Chief Association, the FBI National Academy Associates, and more!

Dear Ballwin Community,

As you read this, I have been on the job for about two and a half months. I accepted the Chief position in Ballwin knowing that this is a tight-knit community that takes pride in itself, its city leaders, and its police department. I am excited to become part of that community.

I have spent much of the past couple of months getting to know the department and the police officers who serve you. It became very apparent to me why the Ballwin community supports and appreciates their police department. The officers of this agency work very hard to deliver a level of service that far exceeds your expectations. Your police officers are smart, professional, and well trained.

Prior to my arrival, the police department worked very hard to build the relationship between you (the community) and themselves. I can see that this hard work has paid off. There is a high level of trust and caring between you and the department. We will continue to strengthen that relationship as we address not only crime and traffic enforcement, but all quality-of-life issues.

As for me, I have been a police officer for over 30 years and have loved every day of that time. Being able to put on a badge is a privilege that is bestowed on only a handful of special people and I consider it an honor to be among them.

We at the Ballwin Police Department want everyone to know that we are not just another city department that serves the community. We are part of the Ballwin community. We will continue to care for each other. And as always, if you need us, we will be there.

- Chief Doug Schaeffler

Q: When did you know you wanted to be a police officer?

A: I've wanted to be a police officer since I was six years old. I knew when I went to college I was going to study criminal justice and when I graduated I was going to be a police officer, and it just all fell into place. I had a lot of help along the way to get to where I am today and I look forward to the rest of my career in law enforcement.

Q: On Saturday morning, what can we find you doing?

A: Having coffee with my wife.

Q: Favorite movie?

A: Full disclosure... I really love the Fast and Furious series.

Q: Tell us about the National Academy. What was that like?

A: The FBI National Academy Associates is sponsored by the FBI and it is a specialized training for law enforcement executives from around the world. It is also the largest law enforcement networking group in the world. I attended the 10-week session in 2014 along with 225 other police executives from over 25 countries. It was really cool getting to know people from different areas.

Q: If you were an ice-cream flavor, which would you be and why?

A: I'll go with Rocky Road... that sounds more compelling than vanilla. I say Rocky Road because on the outside you think it's going to be rough and there's too much going on. But as soon as you take a bite you realize it's really good and really smooth!

Q: What is one thing most people don't know about you?

A: I really consider myself to be an open book, so once you get to know me I will tell you all about myself given the chance. However, there's a lot of stuff I've done that most people might not know. I used to skydive and have almost 300 skydives under my belt. I've done motorcycle rides from St. Louis to Niagara Falls and back in 33 hours. I've hiked the Grand Canyon and spent the night at the bottom a few times. I wouldn't consider myself an adventure nut, but I really like new and unusual experiences.

Q: Favorite book?

A: I typically prefer to read non-fiction, but my favorite fiction book would be The Road by Cormac McCarthy.

Q: Why are you most excited to be here in Ballwin?

A: Honestly, I was not looking to retire from my last job. Then I saw the City of Ballwin was looking for a new Police Chief. I know that Ballwin is a great community with awesome residents and the Police Department is truly a top notch organization that does great work. And I just really wanted to be a part of the Ballwin family. I thought, 'If I'm going to move to another job, this is a great place to be.' This is the only job I've applied for in 30 years and I'm just lucky enough that I got it.

“Before you marry someone you should first make them use a computer with slow internet to see who they really are.” - Will Ferrell

The days of meeting that special someone randomly at the grocery store are quickly becoming memories of the past. First off, groceries are now being delivered, or picked up like a drive thru, more and more frequently. But more importantly, dating is done online or via apps now more than ever.

Although once a rare occurrence, it is now not uncommon to know a couple who met online, in fact for many, it may seem odd to know a couple who met and started dating through more traditional means. There are areas for concern with all methods of dating. Online dating is no different, but the vulnerabilities are. Keeping a watchful eye on what information you provide on your profile is very important. Yes, it makes sense that your future loved one needs to know that you like long walks on the beach, but it is not a great idea to let them know that you like long walks at the Ballwin Pointe from 9 - 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday mornings. Less is more.

Something else to look out for is scams. Dating online is a way for those who are older and less mobile to connect with others. However, with that connection comes the opportunity for some to exploit the good nature of others. This can be done by convincing the victim that they are in a relationship and just need money for airfare to visit. Or other schemes to have money sent to a third party, often out of state, or even out of the country. Take a minute and try to determine if what is being asked is a reasonable request. If you wouldn't normally send money to someone you haven't met in person, don't do it on the internet or over the phone either.

Finally, always have a plan and let others know what your plan is when meeting a new person. Go to public places, drive yourself, have an exit strategy, and never hesitate to ask for help if you need it.

Beware: Tax Season

The only guaranteed things in life are death and... taxes. Tax season is fully upon us and to make matters worse, some of you will be dealing with tax-related identity theft. This crime has been present for many years now and occurs when someone uses your stolen personal information to file a tax return. This information can be obtained in numerous ways and you may not even know you have been compromised until you receive a letter from the IRS or are rejected while e-filing.

The IRS gives the following warning signs:

- You receive a letter from the IRS inquiring about a suspicious tax return that you did not file.
- You are unable to e-file your tax return because of a duplicate SSN.
- You receive a tax transcript in the mail that you did not request.
- You receive an IRS notice that an online account has been created in your name, or an IRS notice that your existing online account has been accessed or disabled when you took no action.
- You receive an IRS notice that you owe additional tax, refund offset or have had collection actions taken against you for a year you did not file a tax return.
- IRS records indicate you received wages or other income from an employer for whom you did not work.
- If you are the victim of tax-related identity theft, the IRS recommends that you respond immediately to any IRS notice by calling the number provided. There are of course a couple of forms to complete (Form 14039 and the Identity Theft Affidavit) in order to start the resolution process with the IRS.

The IRS also recommends visiting FTC.gov to complete IRS identity theft paperwork.

Currently, there is no need to file a report with the Ballwin Police, but you can always call us if you have any concerns on the legitimacy of correspondence or if you need guidance on who to contact.

Foresight is 2020
By Matt Struempfh

Every year resolutions are made. For 2020 why not make a prediction? Be a Nostradamus for your health. A resolution is simply a statement. A prediction, on the other hand, creates a mystical tone that can inspire you to bring that prophecy into existence. Anyone can state they are planning to complete a task. When it comes to bettering your health, it's not a single task. It is the accumulation of small tasks performed over and over to attain improved health and then maintaining it. Let's touch on some daily tasks necessary to be healthier in 2020.

Sleep is a natural daily task we all perform. The importance of quality sleep, however, is sometimes overlooked. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention posts statistics on all sorts of health related topics including sleep deprivation. Short sleep duration is defined as less than 7 hours in a 24 hour period. Across the board, those that regularly perform the unenviable task of short sleep duration are more likely to either participate in less healthy activities or suffer from chronic illness. Whether a causation or correlation is of little importance. The fact is, those that don't get enough sleep are less healthy. Here are some items that particularly stand out from the latest statistics (2014).....

Dietary tracking is a major component of most weight management programs. Putting the idea of weight loss aside, it's also used in other programs that focus on disease prevention. The small task of writing down everything you eat can be tedious. There are numerous tracking apps that help make those tasks less of a burden. Finding one that works for you is the goal. A study published in the Journal of Diabetes Research noted that there is a linear relationship between those that tracked their diet and weight loss. Only those that tracked consistently (>66% of the days) lost a significant amount of weight over a year's time.¹ Tracking, whether it be physical activity or diet, keeps you conscious of what you are doing (or not doing) and eating and it simply works.

Health Risk Factor/ Condition	Short Sleep (<7 hours) Prevalence	Sufficient Sleep (≥7 hours) Prevalence
Obesity	33%	26.5%
Physically Inactive	27.2%	20.9%
Current Smoker	22.9%	14.9%
Diabetes	11.1%	8.6%
Heart Disease	4.7%	3.4%
COPD	8.6%	4.7%

Daily affirmations, although corny to some, are a great way to get your mind right for the day or before an otherwise anxious moment. If you want to go the Stuart Smalley route and perform a whole speech for yourself in the mirror, do so. Otherwise, simply focusing on what you accomplish and giving yourself a brief reminder that you can do the tasks it takes to be healthier will make a difference. Self efficacy is part of every successful endeavor.

In 2020, have the foresight to become a healthier you. The road to better health has no end. Performing the proper tasks regularly will lead you where you need to be, but they must be continued to maintain the progress you make.

The Kick

Artist - Sukanya Mani

In 2018, the City of Ballwin became an official member of the Creative Community Art Alliance. This group is dedicated to the development of community art in our region. Artwork will be displayed in the City through an “art on loan” program, meaning each piece will be placed for two years before moving on to its new home. This allows new artwork to rotate into our city every couple of years. Funds for this project have been provided by revenue from the Ballwin Craft Beer Festival.

Our current piece, The Kick, was created by Artist Sukanya Mani and is located outside The Pointe.

Sukanya Mani is an interdisciplinary artist with a passion in science, anthropology, and philosophy. In this sculpture, she addresses the joy of fun and play in a dynamic silhouette.

A resident of Ballwin, Sukanya created the designs on the body after multiple discussions with City staff. Each dot is painstakingly painted on the surface of the silhouette. She addresses the daily lives of our active human selves being powered and engineered by invisible forces and energies.

“I wanted to express my feelings rather than illustrate them. Each dot is a nod to the people of Ballwin, living individual lives and coming together as a community.”

The Kick will be located at The Pointe until the summer of 2020.
