MINUTES

The minutes from the September 13, 2021, Board of Aldermen meeting were submitted for approval. Alderman Finley requested two changes be made to his comments on page seven of the minutes: to strike "for the meeting as he would like to have paper copies" from the first sentence and add "associated with a park" to the fifth line of the paragraph after "...parking with traffic patterns...". A motion was made by Alderman Finley and seconded by Alderman Roach to approve these amendments. A voice vote was taken with unanimous affirmative result and the motion passed. CITIZEN COMMENTS

Lisa Earley, 415 Gatehall Ln., addressed the Board. She asked the Board if they worked for the people of Ballwin or someone else. She also referred to a poll conducted on Next Door (social media) in which a majority of respondents were opposed to the development. She stated the Aldermen need to listen to the citizens of Ballwin. She feels traffic will be excessive and asked if the apartments are for lease or purchase. She also feels residents should be able to vote on the project.

Natasha Detwiler, 332 Country Club Dr., addressed the Board. She stated she has never understood why the new city hall was built. She referenced the Comprehensive Plan and Parks Master Plan. She stated she is disappointed in the City for the lack of transparency.

Shane Earley, 415 Gatehall Ln., addressed the Board. He stated he is opposed to the plan and disappointed. He also stated apartment residents are transient and only the developers will benefit from this project.

Connie Oster, 743 Stoney Creek Ln. addressed the Board. She stated that the Board’s acceptance of the proposed development breaks a promise to the citizens of Ballwin and becomes a lie. She played an audio clip from the Ballwin Life Podcast, episode three, which talked about creating greenspace at the site of the old government center. She asked why they would want to throw away the opportunity to expand greenspace in Vlasik Park. Ms. Oster also stated that the developer, Mr. Evans, has not answered questions from Ballwin residents. She asked the Board if the opinions of 31,000+ Ballwin residents were more important than approximately 342 potential tenants.

September 27, 2021

7:00 PM 1 GOVERNMENT CTR. BALLWIN, MO 63011

Barb Ryan, 113 Holly Green, addressed the Board. Ms. Ryan feels there are still questions from the previous meeting which need to be answered. She asked if there are other developments financed by Mr. Evans and the Landau Group, will Landau be paying Ballwin for the property which the old government center sits on and how much and is Mr. Evans part of Landau Group or is Landau Group one of his clients. She talked about Bill 4100 which passed at the last meeting and gave the developers approval for the plat, but not where it would be located. She urged the Board to not pass Bills 4101 and 4102 until citizens can be heard. She stated she checked the minutes from the July 6, 2021 Planning and Zoning Meeting; only one Alderman and the Mayor were present and the only citizen comment was that more information was needed. She asked again that the Board either table these two bills until more information is available or vote no.

Brian Neary, 809 Westwood, addressed the Board. He thanked the Mayor and members of the Board for the time they have served the citizens of Ballwin, but was here because he feels they have not been listening to their constituents. He stated there is so much wrong with this development, but he was only going to talk about parking. Mr. Neary shared that the national average of vehicles per household is 1.88 and in Ballwin, it is 2. Using the 1.5 ratio used to figure parking for the development, this will leave 73 vehicles trying to find parking. The Parc Place development is completely isolated space along a road dedicated for park use with zero opportunity for residential street parking. People will be left to find parking in any available place such as the church, bank, Vlasis Park, etc. He asked how the situation will be handled when cars in overflow parking at the food truck park need to be moved for the food trucks and wanted to know how the parking issues would be enforced.

Janice Viazanko, 809 Westwood, addressed the Board. She stated that, in 2019, the City adopted the Comprehensive Plan called the Ballwin Blueprint and as part of that, the former city hall site was to become a gateway into Vlasis Park. She stated that, technically, the former city hall site is city property and technically, the building we are currently in (the new government center) is park property; if the City doesn't distinguish between the two, residents won't either. Residents have been waiting for the City to seek their input for the old site. The proposed development doesn't have enough parking for residents so how will it support retail as well. The development is mixed-use in name only.

Therese Wegan, 11 Sweet Meadows, addressed the Board. She talked about seeing a wedding party in the park on the weekend prior, taking pictures around the lake and gazebo. In the future, there will not be a beautiful park worthy of pictures and memories. She stated that, depending on how they vote, there will just be an apartment building and urged the Board to vote no.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN
Meeting Minutes

September 27, 2021

7:00 PM 1 GOVERNMENT CTR. BALLWIN, MO 63011

Bev Gabbert, 420 Briarwyck, addressed the Board. She stated she has emailed eight of the Board members, but only heard back from three, so she's hoping they received her email. She wanted to express her dismay over the project and has no idea how this got so far. She agrees with the points made by other speakers and feels that this is a money grab. She doesn't feel the Aldermen are listening to their constituents.

Janice Bueg, 25 Steeple Hill, addressed the Board. She stated that if the Board wants truly mixed-use development, they should look at Main Street St. Charles where they have utilized the space beautifully. Adjacent to Vlasik Park is not the right place for the Parc Place development. She is feeling discouraged as she has enjoyed the park for most of her life and also stated that no greenspace can be acquired once it has been taken away. She also asked if anyone would want to eat at a food truck park that sits on a leach field; she would not want to sit on top of that as she knows how it is when a septic system backs up. She asked about the plan to handle this situation. She also stated this "gateway to Ballwin" will look no different than any of the other new apartment projects in the area.

David Knieram, 401 Far Hill, addressed the Board. He stated he brought his son so he could see democracy in action. Mr. Knieram stated Missouri Statute 89.040, the Manchester Road Revitalization Overlay and Comprehensive Plan are all being violated and that this is spot zoning, which is illegal. He stated he is an attorney and there is a lawsuit coming. He also said that if the Board passes this tonight, it's a bill to spend money which they should not be doing.

Joshua Johnson, 20 Log Hill Ln, addressed the Board. He stated he and his family just moved here three months ago. Out of all the parks they have been to, Vlasik is his son's favorite and it's the only one within walking distance of their home. As a parent of young children, he is concerned about the parking situation and subsequent traffic issues which will arise. He feels that people trying to find parking will become frustrated when driving on the park roads.

Marilyn Panter, 857 Hollyridge, addressed the Board. She thanked the Board for the opportunity to speak and to be heard. She asked where was the logic used to provide and substantiate the rationale for putting an apartment building in park space and is this really the best use for this space. She asked the Board to please listen to the citizens and to hear what is being said.

Kat Albert, 405 Briarhill, addressed the Board. She presented a timeline of the proposed development. She stated the Urban Land Institute study was completed in May 2019 and it stated the space should be used for civic or community use. The Comprehensive Plan came out in June 2019 and was commensurate with the ULI study. In November 2019, Brent Evans presented his letter of intent which was not accepted as he did not follow procedure. The next time Mr. Evans was seen was at the July 6, 2021 Planning and Zoning meeting. She asked the Board to please consider not approving the project and maybe create more parking for residents using the park. Lastly, she stated kudos to Aldermen Finley and Utt for listening to their constituents and voting no and thanked Alderman Roach for responding to her email.

Steve Newsome, 902 Palm Bay, addressed the Board. He doesn't understand why they want to do this and it's just wrong.

Susan Newsome, 902 Palm Bay addressed the Board. She stated the people and the parks are what makes Ballwin so special so she doesn't understand why we'd give away space in Vlasis Park, Ballwin's primary park. Vlasis is where everything big in Ballwin happens such as Ballwin Days. Traffic tie-ups will be a mess. She urged the Board to vote no and not give the park away.

Alderman Fleming noted there were no more requests to speak and gave the petitioner an opportunity to address any concerns at this time. George Restovich, attorney for Brent Evans and the Landau Group spoke. He stated they had not anticipated making a presentation as they feel everything had been covered before. He stated this is a $50-55 million redevelopment that is not in the park or the domain of the park. The space being used is the old city hall and JB Automotive to the west. He understands that there is no easy way to satisfy everyone. He also shared that the owners of JB Automotive had emailed the Board letting them know that they are wanting the project to go through as they are looking forward to retirement in Ballwin. Mr. Restovich also talked about similar concerns in other municipalities such as Twin Oaks and Ellisville, but feels this will be the nicest of all. The revenue from the sale of the building can be used by the City for other infrastructure issues and the project will eliminate current utility costs for the City as well. He stated again that they are not taking away any greenspace, but building into a difficult topographic area; they are maximizing the use of the property and beautifying it. The funding for the project is coming from someone local and they are not asking for any TIF or tax abatements.

Brent Evans then spoke, stating he believes this will make Ballwin better. He uses the park just as much as anyone. He stated he is not here to destroy the park, but to change three pieces of worn out commercial property. He stated change is coming; he is taking responsibility for the environmental issues that exist on the property. This complex will give an alternative for people who wish to have maintenance free living and it's a building he'd like to live in.

Alderman Fleming recapped what had happened with the bills at the last meeting. Bill 4100 passed (5-3) at the last meeting. Bills 4101 and 4102 were read once and tabled. Discussion was held on both bills. Our process is to ask for a second reading; after the second reading, there is a vote with no further discussion. He asked that if any of the Aldermen had further comments, they save them for the Aldermanic Comments at the end of the meeting. He also noted that Bill 4102 will be a second reading as amended due to the changes made in the last meeting.

A motion was made by Alderman Roach and seconded by Alderman Utt to approve staff's recommendations. A voice vote was taken with unanimous affirmative result and the motion passed.

ALDERMANIC COMMENTS

Alderman Finley read his comments from the last Board meeting and feels his reasons for voting no still apply. He thanked everyone who stayed and also those who engaged with the Board. He also stated that, while the vote did not go the way most people wanted, he, as the most senior member of the Board in the minority, believes his colleagues are honorable individuals. He respects their opinions and knows they reviewed everything. He also knows they are trying to think of what is best for Ballwin. He also shared that things he has read on social media are very unfair and that we need to resist hatred. This has been a strong issue which everyone cares about and he appreciates everyone coming out.

Alderman Utt thanked everyone who came out. He stated that as a citizen of Ballwin for 44 years, a commissioner on Planning and Zoning for 10 years and an Alderman for two and a half years, he does not take decisions like this lightly and he can confidently say that none of the other gentlemen on the Board do either. He also read social media comments and feels they are not fair and not true. He stated that this building, at seven stories, would be the tallest building in Ballwin. In his opinion, he doesn't feel it fits in the surrounding area. He also believes it would negatively affect the character of the immediate vicinity and for these reasons, he voted no.

Alderman Roach stated he did not feel there was anything he could add that hasn't already been said.

Alderman Stallmann thanked everyone who took time to share their thoughts and concerns about the project which was approved this evening. He stated he has heard from people opposed, those who have concerns and those who want the project to move forward. He wanted to share his thoughts regarding the project. He stated the three parcels of land are not part of Vlasia Park nor have they ever been since the park was established in the early 1960's. The old government center site, and the only one of the three parcels controlled by the City, was acquired by the City in 1996 from Charter Communications. It was acquired not for park land, but to become the new city hall which needed to move out of the police department. He shared that, for many years, the City has recognized the need for mixed use and commercial development on Manchester. As far back as the early 2000's, then Mayor Walt Young told the comprehensive plan steering committee that he would like to see city hall relocated to the Ballwin Golf Course and the government center be made available for commercial development; per our current planning director, the proposed project is consistent with many of the goals of our current comprehensive plan. In accordance with these goals, the current Board of Aldermen voted unanimously to approve the petitioner's bid to purchase the government center subject to approval of their plan. The Planning and Zoning Commission also reviewed this proposal and unanimously recommended its approval to the Board of Aldermen. The other two parcels which are part of this proposal are privately owned and already zoned commercial; they are for sale and the City has limited authority to control what commercial entities eventually purchase the property. Alderman Stallmann also stated he would not vote for the project if any financial assistance was being asked for by the petitioner; the project is 100% privately funded. While Ballwin does not impose a real estate tax on property owners, the funds received from the property taxes paid by the apartment owners will more than offset any costs incurred by the school district, fire district, sewer district and any other entity as a result of this project. He also shared that the petitioner has increased parking within the structure to meet the requirements of our commercial zoning regulations and has doubled the retail component of the project to 4000 square feet. The completed project apartments will be offered to potential tenants at market rents and no government backed rent assistance is being sought. Alderman Stallmann also stated he knows everyone on the Board supports and is dedicated to improving our parks and the development of usable greenspace. Turning the government center into greenspace would cost upwards from $400,000 to $500,000 to turn it into a grassy hill next to Manchester Rd. and next to commercial operations. This is not usable greenspace and not a good use of tax dollars. He believes it would be a better idea to use the proceeds of the sale of the old government center and relocate the cell tower to improve and renovate our existing greenspace and its amenities as well as to acquire additional usable greenspace for citizens. Alderman Stallmann then stated that all of the members of the Board of Aldermen have taken an oath to uphold the laws of the City of Ballwin and they must evaluate all matters that come before them in light of the laws of the City, state and nation. In his opinion, the proposal meets the requirements of the zoning codes.

Alderman Fleming shared that he appreciates all the emails, phone calls and other communications received regarding the apartment complex. Many comments were negative, but there were some positive comments as well. Either way, some group of people would be disappointed. Ballwin is 12,000 homes and 32,000 people; a lot of people are vocal while others wait to see the process. He stated he tries to break this into two pieces; one is whether it follows our processes and if we have a valid proposal to consider. The Board has always been very careful about this. The petitioner worked with staff to make sure the requirements for Planning and Zoning were met. It was submitted to and approved by Planning and Zoning. Once something is approved it becomes more difficult to deal with as Planning and Zoning has said it is valid and fits our requirements. The Board asked the petitioner to respond to some specific things brought up from Planning and Zoning; the parking ratio (raised to 1.5 from 1.2) and retail space. Alderman Fleming believes at that point the requirements had been met and there was a valid proposal to decide on. It is difficult to turn down something which meets requirements set forth by the City. That was his first test and everything appeared to be in order. He considered all feedback received and stated the old saying “if you’re not growing, you’re dying” applies here. Literally any development in the City (Old Towne, Schnucks for example) would not have been built if they relied upon a few vocal opponents. He also stated, lots of times this Board is almost in complete unanimous agreement on topics. This one is a little unusual for the Board because it’s easy to see both points of view. Alderman Fleming said he is trying to focus on the future without sacrificing the present. With regard to some of the objections raised about greenspace, it is true there are documents and a podcast from a former city employee talking about that space in particular and what should happen with that space. It is also true that the Manchester Overlay District and Comprehensive Plan allows that. We sent out RFP’s on the property and we’ve always kept our options open on what can happen on that piece of property and very recently we considered it as a possible location of the new police department. We’ve kept our options open to find the best use for it. It is a very difficult site as it is below street level and has some encumbrances upon it with telecommunications equipment and the cell phone tower. It would have been expensive for the City to simply turn it into grass even before putting anything on it. We are not neglecting greenspace. For example, we have purchased properties around town including at Ferris Park which allowed us to build it out and turn it into something nicer. Greenspace is very important to us and we pride ourselves on our parks and recreation facilities and golf course. Traffic was another objection made by many. Every proposal received for a development on Manchester Rd. is going to have some effect on traffic but that doesn’t mean we can never build anything on Manchester Rd. Regarding the comments about building it elsewhere or we don’t need more apartments, the petitioner brought the proposal for that piece of property and at the last meeting and this evening, gave his reasons on how it complimented the park and why they wanted to build it there. The Board has to decide on what is brought before them and that is what was brought to them. The petitioner is an individual with a group of investors. They decide where to invest their money; if they wanted to build someplace else, they would have brought that proposal. He believes our processes were followed. As far as we don't need any more apartments, anytime a gas station or something else is built, people will say we don't need it here. If you look at apartments all along Manchester, from Des Peres to Wildwood, some of these complexes are aging. Many of the aging complexes have a lot of surface parking which can lead to lots of car break-ins. Parking for much of this complex will be underground which will be good. With regard to other objections such as this being a tax grab and overwhelming the school district, this project will probably benefit Ballwin to some degree from a tax perspective but everyone needs to remember that we don't collect property tax as a City. School and fire districts do, so they will benefit from this but we are not doing this because it benefits us. As far as school overcrowding, he feels that if 50 families with children moved in, he would say that is good for the community and school districts will adjust accordingly. While all this can be debated, there's no wrong answer. People are entitled to their feelings, but the Board has to decide if it is a legal and proper proposal which has met our requirements and take feedback into account and make the best decision possible. Alderman Fleming stated he made a decision that was different from some others which was upsetting to some, but these are his answers to questions raised. He thanked everyone for their participation and making their voices heard. He also thanked staff for making the meeting work. He stated there is still a lot to do with the project and still some challenges ahead, but we will make sure the project continues to meet requirements set out and that the project is done very well.

Alderman Leahy had no comments.

Alderman Bullington stated he took several pages of notes during the meeting and has received emails and met with some people personally. He knows that many are disappointed in how this has come about. He has always wanted to add greenspace to all of our parks where possible. Challenges as outlined in the conclusion of the redevelopment of the city hall area, such as the topography and JB Automotive area, have to be dealt with. He thanked his fellow Aldermen for their dedication, stating that this was not something that was done easily. He also shared that he is a retired principal and today he attended the funeral of a great kid. He encouraged people to always reach out to those you care for.

Alderman Kerlagon stated he feels everything's been said and he can leave with a clear conscience; they are not being bribed. He also stated he felt insulted by comments insinuating that they are.
